[REDACTED] purportedly sailed aboard
the Lurline as ~~one of~~ the crew members.

This informant has heard that they gamble aboard the Lurline but had no information which indicated that they control the gambling among the crew members. This informant indicates that information has been received by this informant which would indicate that anyone who has money can gamble among the ~~other~~ crew members on the Lurline. This informant ~~did not have any information~~ which would indicate that [REDACTED] had any tie with officers of unions or with so called hoodlums. This informant indicates that the gambling amongst the crew is not considered big time gambling and generally consists of small games.
